

80

* Percentage of America's first responders trained in community colleges.

Every year, America's 1,200 community colleges enroll close to 12 million students—ensuring affordable access to college, promising a competitive workforce, and helping to build the nation's emergency response capabilities.

America's colleges and universities teach the people who solve the problems and change the world.

SOLUTIONSFOROURFUTURE.org

For all the different ways higher education is finding solutions, visit SolutionsForOurFuture.org.